From the Dean

Welcome to the heart of Marquette University.

The Helen Way Klingler College of Arts and Sciences is the largest and most diverse academic unit on campus. Here you will experience the rich heritage of a Catholic, Jesuit education grounded in academic excellence, social justice, faith and service. You will meet talented teacher-scholars who are dedicated to student success, innovative research and partnerships across Milwaukee and beyond. Our excellent advisors will help you explore the wide variety of majors (https://www.marquette.edu/arts-sciences/programs.php) and minors (https://www.marquette.edu/arts-sciences/minors.php) we offer as well as accelerated degree programs that enable you to earn both an undergraduate and a master’s degree (https://www.marquette.edu/arts-sciences/accelerated-degree-programs.php) in five years.

Thanks to national data, employer surveys and alumni feedback, we know that study of the humanities, social sciences, computational sciences and natural sciences at Marquette will prepare you for a successful career, robust community engagement and a meaningful life.

The Klingler College of Arts and Sciences will help you discern your path and make good decisions. You will experience and learn to foster a sense of belonging. You will have the opportunity to participate in faculty-mentored research projects, internships, study abroad, service learning and community engagement opportunities. You will graduate well prepared to face unscripted challenges and to work beyond boundaries.

I encourage you to explore all that the Klingler College of Arts and Sciences has to offer. Thank you for choosing Marquette and the College of Arts and Sciences. I look forward to working with you!

Sincerely,
Heidi Bostic, Ph.D.
Dean, Klingler College of Arts and Sciences

College Mission Statement

As the heart and soul of Marquette University, the College of Arts and Sciences explores and advances understandings of human meaning and value, the structures and dynamics of human societies, and the composition and function of the natural world.

College Vision Statement

The College aspires to recruit and retain outstanding students and faculty and to equip them to accomplish significant research and scholarship, transformative teaching and learning, and committed and compassionate leadership in their professional fields and larger communities. In this way, we seek the serious intellectual engagement of faith and reason, and the education of the whole person – the rigorous, holistic exploration of the intellectual, moral and spiritual dimension of human life.

Diversity and Inclusion Statement

As the heart and soul of Marquette University and in the pursuit of social justice, the Klingler College of Arts and Sciences values the diversity of all people in regard to their race, ethnicity, gender, gender identity, sexuality, religious tradition, socioeconomic status, ability, age, language, and nationality. As a college we are committed to the recruitment and retention of students, staff and faculty from diverse backgrounds by creating and sustaining an environment that is welcoming, supportive and inclusive. Members of the college demonstrate our active commitment to diversity in teaching, advising, research and all other college activities that engage issues of import to local, national, and global communities. We promote diversity through interdisciplinary work that supports a culture of learning, social justice, and respect for human dignity. We encourage action based on these ideals. This commitment contributes to the promotion of excellence and the development of future leaders dedicated to the service of others.

College of Arts and Science Policies

Students in the Klingler College of Arts and Sciences are expected to comply with the academic requirements and regulations listed in the university section (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/policies/) of this bulletin and must fulfill the graduation requirements stated in the bulletin in effect the year they entered Marquette.

Students who interrupt their enrollment from the university, normally follow the degree requirements listed in the bulletin in effect during the academic year of their readmission. Policies and regulations that are in effect at the time of return apply to all students, regardless of the term of initial enrollment.

It is the responsibility of students to know and fulfill all university, Klingler College of Arts and Sciences and major department requirements.

While the principal policies and procedures of the college are contained in this section of the bulletin, questions concerning other regulations are directed to the college or relevant department office.

College of Arts and Sciences Resources
The Klingler College of Arts and Sciences is, by its very nature, the heart of Marquette University. We challenge students to explore many ways of understanding, doing and succeeding – regardless of the major they decide to pursue.

We recognize that our students are faced with both challenges and opportunities. To assist in the transition from high school to college, as well as along college and career paths, the college offers numerous resources ranging from individualized advising to academic support services to career exploration and development. These resources are designed to help students develop the knowledge and skills they need to succeed, as well as to introduce them to the faculty, advisers and staff throughout the college who are available to guide them pursue excellence through a liberal arts education.

Advising Center
Overview
The Klingler College of Arts and Sciences Advising Center (http://www.marquette.edu/as/advising_index.shtml/) is run by a team of professional academic advisers committed to serving students and helping them achieve success. This center offers comprehensive assistance for students' development and is open five days a week, all year long. Students are assigned an adviser and receive service and support in a wide variety of ways. The advisers can assist students in choosing a major, determining career and academic goals, developing study skills, selecting courses and creating a class schedule, preparing for graduate and professional school, and connecting them with other campus resources.

Norman H. Ott Memorial Writing Center
Overview
The Ott Writing Center (http://www.marquette.edu/english/writingcenter/) offers one-to-one tutoring to all Marquette students, staff and faculty on all kinds of writing projects from first year English papers to graduate theses, from history papers to personal statements for law school. The center is staffed with a mix of graduate students from a variety of departments, as well as undergraduate peer tutors. Graduate students from English also usually teach a section of ENGL 1001 Foundations in Rhetoric.

ARSC 1020  Major Concepts in Modern Science 1  (4 credits)
An interdisciplinary, integrated study of processes and principles of physics and their application to astronomy and earth science. Topics include describing motion, energy and momentum, electricity and magnetism, waves, sound and light, reflection and refraction, heat, rocks and minerals, the earth (plate tectonics, land and water cycles), weather, the solar system and stellar life cycles. Scientific inquiry as a means of knowledge: major technological contributions to modern societies, stability, information transfer, and emphasizing relevant physical processes in specific environments. Consists of 3 hrs. of lecture and 2 hrs. of laboratory work. May be counted as a natural science for elementary/middle school and middle/secondary teaching certification. Does not count toward major requirements for biological sciences, chemistry, physics, and broad field science for early adolescence/adolescence teacher preparation.
Level of Study: Undergraduate
Marquette Core Curriculum: NSM Cgntn, Lang, Mmry/Intlgnc
Last four terms offered: 2022 Fall Term, 2021 Fall Term, 2020 Fall Term, 2019 Fall Term
Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=ARSC%201020)
ARSC 1021  Major Concepts in Modern Science 2  (4 credits)
An interdisciplinary, integrated study of processes and principles of chemistry and biology. Topics include describing matter, chemical bonds, chemical reactions, the cell, genetics, evolution and diversity, human biology and ecosystems. Scientific inquiry as a means of knowledge: major technological contributions to modern societies, stability, information transfer and evolution of biological systems, emphasizing relevant chemical processes in specific environments. Consists of 3 hrs. of lecture and 2 hrs. of laboratory work. Does not count toward major requirements for biological sciences, chemistry, physics and broad field science for early adolescence/adolescence teacher preparation.
Level of Study: Undergraduate
Marquette Core Curriculum: NSM Expanding Our Horizons
Last four terms offered: 2023 Spring Term, 2022 Spring Term, 2021 Spring Term, 2020 Spring Term
Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=ARSC%201021)

ARSC 1963  Exploring Arts and Sciences  (1 credits)
Provide opportunities for exploration of academic and professional pathways for Arts and Sciences students. Develop behaviors for student success strategies, career discernment and planning, and personal development. Required of all new first-year students in the College of Arts and Sciences.
Prerequisite: Restricted to first-year students in the Klingler College of Arts and Sciences.
Level of Study: Undergraduate
Last four terms offered: 2022 Fall Term, 2015 Fall Term, 2014 Fall Term, 2013 Fall Term
Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=ARSC%201963)

ARSC 2000  Democracy, Culture and Public Policy: Africa  (3 credits)
Examines the manner, culture, values and identity that shape global and domestic politics in the West Africa region. Emphasis on public policy efforts to promote democracy and advance the overall welfare of the nation. Consists of two weeks of study and travel in West Africa. Travel fees.
Level of Study: Undergraduate
Last four terms offered: 2014 Spring Term, 2013 Spring Term
Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=ARSC%202000)

ARSC 2931  First Year Seminar: Lawyers in American Society  (1 credits)
Academic seminar that introduces students in the Pre-law Scholars program to the legal profession, legal thought and legal education. Primary objective is to provide students with an opportunity to learn about lawyers, the practice of law and to assist them in making decisions about a career in law. S/U grade assessment.
Prerequisite: First year Pre-law Scholar.
Level of Study: Undergraduate
Last four terms offered: 2023 Spring Term, 2022 Spring Term, 2021 Spring Term, 2020 Spring Term
Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=ARSC%202931)

ARSC 3370  Topics in Arts and Sciences  (1-3 credits)
Selected topics, not a part of the regular course work taught because of a special need, interest or opportunity.
Level of Study: Undergraduate
Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=ARSC%203370)

ARSC 3370  Washington, D.C. and the American Experience  (3 credits)
Washington, D.C., with its array of historical sites, museums, monuments and population reflects the diverse experience of the United States and its democratic experiment.
