Educational Policy and Leadership website (https://www.marquette.edu/grad/programs-edpl-phd.php)

Degree Offered
Doctor of Philosophy

Program Description
The EDPL doctoral program develops educational scholar-practitioners, researchers, and leaders who possess the commitment, perspective, and skills to implement strategies for greater equity in a variety of educational settings. Students inquire deeply into the foundational knowledge of education, exploring how the organization of schools, institutions of higher education, and society shape educational processes. Students gain theoretical knowledge in specific disciplinary/topical concentrations, enabling them to further examine educational practice in a chosen context. Finally, students acquire expertise in research methods which equip them to advance and enact educational knowledge. The program supports EDPL Ph.D. graduates to work actively to create a more just society.

CAREER SKILLS REQUIREMENT FOR PH.D. STUDENTS
Marquette University is committed to preparing our students to become exemplary leaders in their chosen academic and professional fields by preparing them for careers in which they find purpose and value by engaging in Ignatian pedagogical reflection and practice. The purpose of the career skills requirement is to ensure all doctoral students have the opportunity to reflect on their desired career and to acquire essential career-related skills needed for them to pursue their chosen path.

Students enrolled in Ph.D. programs in Fall 2024 and beyond at Marquette must complete three career skills requirements. Requirements are satisfied by one or more of approved courses, workshops, or practical experiences in each category, as approved by the Graduate School. Completion of each skill will be noted on the student’s transcript.

CAREER DISCERNMENT
Students will be able to identify and prepare for career pathways that are consistent with their values.

Objectives:
1. Understand realities of academic job market for your discipline, creating space for career imagination and understand potential career paths.
2. Exploration of, and defining student’s own identity/experiences/values/strengths/gifts and how the career pathway fits with those values.
3. Students will learn to identify and attain the skills and experiences necessary to obtain the career pathway they desire.

COMMUNICATION
Students will be able to communicate their ideas and scholarship effectively to audiences beyond those in their discipline.

Objectives:
1. Demonstrate the ability to communicate (e.g., research, expertise, experiences) effectively and ethically with disciplinary, cross-disciplinary, and nonacademic audiences.
2. Demonstrate the ability to communicate effectively and ethically within various contexts, formats, and media.
3. Demonstrate the ability to effectively deliver a presentation and facilitate discussion.

UNDERSTANDING DIVERSITY, EQUITY AND INCLUSION

Students will understand the importance of diversity, equity and inclusion and how issues of DEI are relevant to their career pathways.

Objectives:

1. Be aware of and able to identify how explicit and implicit bias impacts work life and understand possible strategies to address this bias.
2. Be able to articulate the value of universal design principles and ethical application to area of study.
3. Be able to work and interact effectively with persons from diverse backgrounds with varied values, ideas, and opinions.

Educational Policy and Leadership Doctorate

A Marquette doctoral student must complete a 57-credit program of study prepared in consultation with his or her adviser and outlined on an approved Doctoral Program Planning Form. The program must include an earned master’s degree of 30 credit hours, an additional 45 credit hours of course work, and 12 credit hours of dissertation course work.

Transferring Credits from master’s programs:

- A maximum of 15 master’s credits can be considered for transfer from another institution.
- Additional master’s credits may be considered for transfer from a closely related Marquette University master’s degree program.

In both cases, the transfer of credits is considered on a case-by-case basis by the student’s adviser and/or the Doctoral Program Committee based on the following factors:

1. EDPL courses listed as requirements or electives in the doctoral program description can be accepted for transfer given adequate student performance;
2. Level of theoretical course content for courses not listed in the program;
3. Student performance in transfer course.

In all cases, should the adviser and/or Doctoral Program Committee determine a student is not sufficiently prepared to begin dissertation research upon completion of course work, EDPL reserves the right to require the student to take appropriate course/s toward completion of the doctoral degree.

A doctoral program must contain the following elements:

Total Credit Hours: 18

Students may also create a customized set of electives with the approval of their adviser.

Normally, no second language is required, unless, at the discretion of the student’s adviser, proficiency in a second language is necessary in a student’s research.

The residency requirement for EDPL doctoral students is met when the student has completed three consecutive semesters with a minimum of three credits each semester. Summer can be, but is not required to be, included to meet the residency requirement.
A doctoral student must pass all three parts of a written and oral qualifying exam prior to the advancement to candidacy. DQE Component 1: Critical Analysis and DQE Component 2: Foundations of Research are completed during course work. DQE Component 3: Proposal, both written and oral defense, is taken after the completion of course work. A student’s DQE Component 3 committee and the dissertation committee (typically the same members) should include at least two faculty from the EDPL department. The remaining members may be from outside the department with no more than one coming from outside the university. Students should select all committee members in consultation with their adviser.

The doctoral dissertation must represent an original research contribution and show high attainment and clear ability to do independent research. Students must successfully defend both their dissertation proposal and the final dissertation.

Master's Programs

The goal of the master’s programs is to engage the professional educator in extended critical reflection on the principles, practices, and rationales of human-service leadership in contemporary society. Specifically, the programs seek to develop educational leaders in K-12 schools, colleges, universities and educational organizations with expertise in the historical, philosophical and sociological foundations of educational policy issues. The programs are designed to accommodate the working professional, and program content is composed to reflect student backgrounds, interests and professional objectives.

Certification Programs

The College of Education offers a variety of certification programs which prepare students to obtain state certification and licensure. Certification program requirements are in alignment with requirements for educational licensure through the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction. Certificates are granted by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction. The university’s decisions on recommendations for certification are made by its licensing officer after appropriate consultations and requirement reviews.

EDPL 6000 Introduction to Educational Inquiry (3 credits)

Multiple approaches to educational research are explored with emphasis on reading, critiquing and using research to develop and support strong oral and written theses in discussing educational issues.

Level of Study: Graduate

Last four terms offered: 2024 Spring Term, 2023 Fall Term, 2023 Summer Term, 2022 Fall Term

Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=EDPL%206000)

EDPL 6050 Quantitative Literacy and Research (3 credits)

Designed to ground discussions of educational policy across classroom, school, system, and state/national levels within an orientation to developing literacy in statistics and quantitative research. Students learn to critically engage with an array of basic statistical research techniques and analyze various types of evaluations, including academic articles, reports generated in non-profit government sectors, and institutional evaluation metrics. Students also learn how to synthesize and critically evaluate analyses of an issue of policy, practice, and program design of their choosing.

Level of Study: Graduate

Last four terms offered: 2024 Spring Term

Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=EDPL%206050)
EDPL 6100 Introduction to Student Affairs (3 credits)
Historical, philosophical and theoretical foundations of the field of student affairs in higher education in the United States. Roles and functions of various student affairs divisions and how they contribute to purposes of post-secondary education. Current issues in the field.
Level of Study: Graduate
Last four terms offered: 2023 Fall Term, 2022 Fall Term, 2021 Fall Term, 2020 Fall Term
Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=EDPL%206100)

EDPL 6130 Counseling Skills for Student Affairs Professionals (3 credits)
An introduction to counseling theory and the role of counseling in student affairs emphasizing the development of basic counseling, helping and referral skills through readings, assignments and participation in role-plays. Students gain an appreciation for consultation between counselors and student affairs professionals and an understanding of the ethical and legal standards of the counseling profession.

EDPL 6140 Social Justice Advocacy in Student Affairs (3 credits)
Research and theoretical perspectives related to social justice advocacy in higher education as well as their application to students' personal and professional lives. Structured dialogue and reflection—alongside content about central competencies, practices, and strategies to support the development of more inclusive educational spaces—enhance students' self-awareness of their orientations toward a range of diversities and how these may influence their work as social justice advocates throughout their careers in postsecondary education and beyond.
Prerequisite: EDPL 6200.
Level of Study: Graduate
Last four terms offered: 2023 Fall Term, 2022 Fall Term, 2021 Fall Term, 2020 Fall Term
Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=EDPL%206140)

EDPL 6150 Leadership in Higher Education (3 credits)
Designed to provide foundational grounding in leadership theory and research. Pays specific attention to the evolution of leadership theory, interdisciplinary conceptualizations of the topic, administrative applications of theory, pedagogy for teaching and learning about leadership, and the leadership development process of college students. Given leadership is a contextually-bound and socially-constructed phenomenon, time is dedicated to understanding cultural dimensions and considerations, as well as examining content using critical perspectives that allow for the deconstruction and reconstruction of leadership theory in service of social justice.
Level of Study: Graduate
Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=EDPL%206150)

EDPL 6160 Student Success in Higher Education (3 credits)
Designed to help students obtain the requisite knowledge and skills to understand and lead multifaceted student success efforts. Examines the institutional and individual factors that promote student success in college – exploring how to create and sustain college environments that center academic achievement and engagement in educationally-purposeful activities, while addressing barriers such as equity gaps in persistence and attainment.
Level of Study: Graduate
Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=EDPL%206160)

EDPL 6200 Student Development in Higher Education (3 credits)
Overview of major theories of college student development with emphasis on cognitive and psychosocial theories. Applications for work in student affairs and leadership in higher education.
Level of Study: Graduate
Last four terms offered: 2023 Fall Term, 2022 Fall Term, 2021 Fall Term, 2020 Fall Term
Schedule of Classes (https://bulletin.marquette.edu/class-search/?details&code=EDPL%206200)

EDPL 6210 Environmental Theory Assessment in Higher Education (3 credits)
Survey of contemporary theories of and research on human/environment interaction and assessment. Application of their uses for outcomes assessment and improvement of college and university campus environments.
Prerequisite: EDPL 6200.
Level of Study: Graduate
Last four terms offered: 2024 Spring Term, 2023 Spring Term, 2022 Spring Term, 2021 Spring Term
