Degree Offered
Master of Education (M.Ed.)

Program Description
The goal of the master’s programs is to engage the professional educator in extended critical reflection on the principles, practices, and rationales of human-service leadership in contemporary society. Specifically, the programs seek to develop educational leaders in K-12 schools, colleges, universities and educational organizations with expertise in the historical, philosophical and sociological foundations of educational policy issues. The programs are designed to accommodate the working professional, and program content is composed to reflect student backgrounds, interests and professional objectives.

Specializations
Secondary Education
The teacher education master of education with a specialization in secondary education is designed for students with a bachelor’s degree in biology, chemistry, economics, English, a foreign language, history, mathematics, physics, political science, psychology or sociology who wish to earn an initial Wisconsin middle/secondary (grades 4-12) teaching license. This licensure to master’s program is aligned with the knowledge, skills and dispositions related to effective teaching and articulated in the Wisconsin State Teaching Standards for Licensure and Professional Development. Like Marquette’s undergraduate teacher preparation program, this program prepares teachers to uphold the Jesuit traditions of care for the person, social justice, academic excellence, ethical behavior and service to the urban community.

Secondary Education - Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics
This 14-month accelerated, teacher education master of education program in science, technology, engineering and math teaching is designed for students with a bachelor’s degree in STEM seeking to earn an initial Wisconsin middle/secondary (grades 4-12) teaching license. Students take courses (30 credits) as a cohort over four sessions. During that time they engage in teaching experiences based upon a field-based, co-operative education internship model. This allows students to apply their course work and theory directly to teaching experiences in the classroom.

Teacher Education Master of Education
Specializations: Secondary Education; Secondary Education - Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics

The master of education in teacher education (TEDU) prepares graduate students for careers in teaching. The program is designed for students with a bachelor’s degree who wish to earn an initial Wisconsin middle and high school teaching license (grades 4-12), or an initial Wisconsin middle and high school teaching license (grades 4-12) in a STEM content.

Program Requirements
Secondary Education
This master’s program is designed to meet the needs of the working professional with a certifiable bachelor’s degree who wish to earn an initial Wisconsin middle and high school teaching license (grades 4-12). The master of education degree in secondary education requires students to complete 39 credit hours of prerequisite and required course work. This includes one term of full-time student teaching.

Certification Programs
The College of Education offers a variety of certification programs which prepare students to obtain state certification and licensure. Certification program requirements are in alignment with requirements for educational licensure through the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction. Certificates are granted by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction. The university's decisions on recommendations for certification are made by its licensing officer after appropriate consultations and requirement reviews.

Doctoral Program
The EDPL doctoral program develops educational scholar-practitioners, researchers, and leaders who possess the commitment, perspective, and skills to implement strategies for greater equity in a variety of educational settings. Students inquire deeply into the foundational knowledge of education, exploring how the organization of schools, institutions of higher education, and society shape educational processes. Students gain theoretical knowledge in specific disciplinary/topical concentrations, enabling them to further examine educational practice in a chosen context. Finally, students acquire expertise in research methods which equip them to advance and enact educational knowledge. The program supports EDPL Ph.D. graduates to work actively to create a more just society.

EDUC 6971  Introduction to Teaching and Learning  (6 credits)
Addresses topics of child and adolescent development, exceptional needs and diversity. While participating in projects at informal science institutions (ISIs), scholars observe adolescents interacting with STEM activities. Provides a foundation to understand adolescent development, and to recognize and support students with exceptional needs and from diverse backgrounds. The scholars reflect on observations of inquiry instructional approaches that are often difficult to find in many school settings. Opportunities to observe students from diverse backgrounds and with exceptional needs in these settings allow scholars to consider theory in context. Includes required field experience.
Prerequisite: Admission to Noyce Scholar Graduate STEM Teacher Preparation Program.
Level of Study: Graduate
Last four terms offered: 2020 Summer Term, 2019 Summer Term, 2018 Summer Term

EDUC 6972 Integrated STEM Methods (6-9 credits)
Integrated teaching that includes general teaching methods, STEM teaching methods and literacy in the content areas of math and science for students in grades 6-12. Topics include: lesson and unit planning, instructional strategies, differentiation, classroom management, learning theory, pedagogical content knowledge and strategies for incorporating literacy skills in STEM content instruction. Scholars are provided multiple opportunities to merge theory with practice through analysis and reflection on their own teaching, as well as that in their site classrooms. Requires field experience.
Prerequisite: EDUC 6971.
Level of Study: Graduate
Last four terms offered: 2020 Fall Term, 2019 Fall Term, 2018 Fall Term

EDUC 6973 Teacher Practice (9 credits)
In compliance with Wisconsin State Licensure requirements, scholars serve as student teachers under the direction of an assigned STEM classroom cooperating teacher and a university supervisor at a high-needs school for the entire secondary school semester. Scholars serve alongside their cooperating teacher, initially shadowing them and gradually assuming full responsibility for the teaching day. Topics include: theories of learning, analyzing assessment data and pedagogical practices. Requires field experience (student teaching).
Prerequisite: EDUC 6972.
Level of Study: Graduate

EDUC 6974 Professional Practice (6 credits)
Scholars are prepared for professional practice in education; they work closely with school personnel to resolve a current educational challenge and conduct collaborative research toward generating solutions to a challenge in their partner institution. This research applies STEM educational theory to a real-world challenge, helping to synthesize learning while assisting the institution in applying current educational theory to resolving existing problems. Instruction also includes current issues in educational policy pertaining to STEM education, legal issues facing teachers, and the rights of students and families as they pertain to education. Requires field experience (research partnerships).
