Law School

From the Dean

Law School website (http://law.marquette.edu)

People choose a specific law school for many and varied reasons. I know that many of you will select a school because you believe it is the "best" law school you can get into. Some of you want to attend a school in a particular geographical region, while others of you will select an institution because you believe its program offers specialization in certain fields of the law. Perhaps some applicants want to attend a school with a particular religious affiliation. And all of you are concerned about the cost of legal education, and the value and marketability of your J.D. degree once you graduate.

These are all valid considerations, and Marquette merits your serious consideration for any of these reasons. However, I suggest there are some other things you should also think about. First, what is your experience in law school going to be like? Will you become part of a supportive family of students, faculty, administrators and alumni? Second, what kind of person will you be as a result of your legal education? Will law school help you to gain a respect for all persons and an understanding of how law can help people resolve difficult problems, often in times of great stress? Will you be a better person after law school, or not?

To me, the law is a helping profession. As a Catholic and Jesuit law school, we have a particular obligation to assure that the education that is provided at Marquette is designed to enhance our students' respect for all people, while assuring that our students become skilled lawyers who can excel in the legal profession.

Marquette provides you with an unusual opportunity. First, we are an outstanding law school. Our curriculum is designed to ensure that you will have the substantive knowledge, skills, and values essential to practice law in the twenty-first century. We are extremely proud that we train lawyers—lawyers who practice in all areas of the profession, in private firms and public agencies, in Wisconsin and throughout the United States. It is no accident that many of our alumni are state and federal judges, and that many Marquette University Law School graduates are business and political leaders. We teach our students to have the skills to succeed in whatever branch of our profession they select. Part of the Jesuit tradition of education is encouraging students to become agents for positive change in society. This is especially important in a law school.

We want our students to be decent people, to give back to our communities, and to be leaders in doing good, both within and outside the profession. We are committed to encouraging our students upon becoming lawyers to provide legal assistance to people who lack the resources to retain counsel and to ensuring that all members of the profession are moral and ethical. We want to use law as an engine for positive change, not as a device to cause anger and unhappiness. Even in the context of adversarial relationships and an attorney's obligation to provide zealous representation to clients, lawyers must be skilled and committed to resolving disputes while maintaining respect for opposing parties and counsel.

Some of you may be concerned about attending a Catholic and Jesuit institution. You might fear that we have modified our curriculum in some way to reflect the views of the Church or the Society of Jesus. Or you might think that we will try to change your present religious belief. In fact, The Society of Jesus, Marquette University, and this Law School are absolutely committed to the core concept of academic freedom and to a full dialogue on every and any issue. Indeed, it is my experience that a broader exchange of views is possible here than at many institutions that are constrained by "political correctness." We are not afraid or ashamed to speak about faith, morality and right and wrong, but we are not parochial in our views. We welcome persons of all backgrounds, religious and non-religious, to our Law School. Law school must be an enriching experience, and part of that enrichment is meeting and learning with people from diverse backgrounds, cultures and religious traditions. We embrace a diverse student body as being essential to a first-rate legal education and a superior law school experience.

We are blessed with an outstanding faculty. The first prerequisite for our faculty is outstanding teaching. Teaching is not a secondary concern at Marquette; it is the primary qualification for hiring, promotion and tenure of faculty. To maximize the formal classroom experience we limit the size of classes and provide a mix of gifted full-time faculty and outstanding adjunct faculty from among the best lawyers in the state. Law faculty and administrators are accessible to students to discuss course material, legal issues, career goals or personal matters. The Jesuit commitment to care for the person is reflected in the way we view students, and how we expect students to view themselves and each other. Our main job is educating you to be highly skilled, highly ethical and moral lawyers and human beings. That requires that we be available to you in and out of the classroom.

There are many fine law schools in the United States. However, I doubt that many schools can offer you the outstanding education, true caring for you as a person and the commitment to make you a better person while you are here. We hope you will give our Law School your serious consideration.

God speed.

Degrees

The Marquette University Law School (http://law.marquette.edu/) offers a Juris Doctor (J.D.) and a Master of Laws (LL.M.) in Sports Law for Foreign Lawyers. It also collaborates with a variety of university graduate programs to offer joint J.D./graduate degree programs. Students may also earn a Certificate in Litigation and/or a Certificate in Alternative Dispute Resolution as part of the Juris Doctor program.
As a student at Marquette University Law School, you are part of a caring community. We are committed to providing you with an excellent legal education, with course work that is relevant and intellectually challenging.

The following list includes descriptions of all approved Law School courses. Note: The Law School does not offer each course every year. For information on current course offerings, consult the Law School website (http://law.marquette.edu/).

Courses

LAW 7000. Civil Procedure. 4 cr. hrs.
An examination of the progression of civil cases, including jurisdiction, pleading, discovery, pretrial practice, the civil trial process, and post-verdict proceedings. The principal objectives of the course are to equip students with an understanding of the civil litigation process, to contrast the processing of a civil case with that of a criminal case, and to explore the roles of plaintiff and defense counsel.

LAW 7001. Constitutional Law. 4 cr. hrs.
An introduction to the constitutional system of the United States, organized around 1) the judicial role in the constitutional scheme; 2) the allocation of power between the national government and the states; 3) the division of authority among the branches of the national government; and 4) the limitations imposed upon both national and state government for the protection of individual rights. The course exposes students to alternative theories of constitutional interpretation and contrasts constitutional decision-making with the resolution of disputes under statutory or common law.

LAW 7002. Contracts. 4 cr. hrs.
An examination of the principles governing the formation, performance, and enforcement of promissory obligations. The principal objective of the course is the development of the foundational skills of legal reasoning and legal analysis, skills that the course seeks to develop principally by examining how judge-made common law rules emerge and evolve and how lawyers facilitate that evolution through the representation of clients. In addition, the course will contrast the challenges to the lawyer posed by common-law rules with those posed by statutes and constitutions.

LAW 7003. Criminal Law. 3 cr. hrs.
A study of the sources and purposes of the criminal law, the definition of crimes, theories of group criminality, and defenses to criminal liability. This course will introduce students to the interpretation and construction of statutes, the use of statutory codes, and will explore the dynamics of the relationship between courts and legislatures.

LAW 7004. Legal Analysis, Writing and Research 1. 3 cr. hrs.
This course is the first of two courses that introduce students to researching the law, analyzing how the law applies to a set of facts, and writing a document that reflects that research and analysis. Legal Analysis, Writing and Research 1 focuses on predictive legal writing.

LAW 7005. Legal Analysis, Writing and Research 2. 3 cr. hrs.
Builds on the skills learned in LAW 7004. Teaches students how to implement the legal research process using both print and electronic media, how to analyze the results of that research, and how to write a document that reflects that research and analysis. Focuses on persuasive writing. Prereq: LAW 7004.

LAW 7006. Property. 4 cr. hrs.
This course focuses on ownership, the varieties of interest in land, considerations in the buying and selling of land, and the control of land use through private arrangements and the common law of nuisance. The course also emphasizes multi-stage analysis of legal problems, the intersection of diverse doctrines, and the unique concerns in the practice of transactional law.

LAW 7007. Torts. 4 cr. hrs.
A study of claims and defenses relating to civil liability for the infliction of harm to person and property. Uses of the civil process in shaping and presenting tort actions will also be addressed. The course also will trace the evolution of the common law related to civil liability. Students will consider how social policy shapes the civil duties that are assigned, the standards for the level of care that are imposed, the causation that is recognized, and the damages that are allowed.

LAW 7101. Administrative Law. 3 cr. hrs.
A study of state and federal procedures, including the creation and operation of agencies and their relationship to the courts. Special attention is given to administrative investigation, adjudication, and rule making. Prereq: LAW 7001.

LAW 7102. Advanced Civil Procedure. 3 cr. hrs.
An examination of procedural aspects of civil litigation that builds upon and goes substantially beyond the mandatory first-year course. Particular attention is paid to (1) certain aspects of Wisconsin civil procedure that differ from those of the federal system, and (2) various aspects of complex litigation, such as class actions, joinder, and multidistrict litigation. Additional topics may include extraordinary writs, settlements, and perfecting appeals. Prereq: LAW 7000.

LAW 7105. Alternative Dispute Resolution. 3 cr. hrs.
An examination of extrajudicial methods of dispute resolution, including negotiation, mediation, arbitration, and mini-trials. Prereq: LAW 7000, which may be taken concurrently.
LAW 7106. Amateur Sports Law. 3 cr. hrs.
Covers various amateur sports law issues and focuses on legal regulations of interscholastic, intercollegiate, and Olympic sports. Topics covered may include constitutional law, tort law, contract law, Title IX gender discrimination, federal disability discrimination laws, the legal relationship between a university and its student athletes, regulatory authority of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, United States Olympic Committee and high school athletic associations, antitrust law, resolution of disputes affecting Olympic sports (including the jurisdiction and operation of the Court of Arbitration for Sport), and regulation of private education institutions and sports associations. Prereq: Completion of 27 credits.

LAW 7108. American Legal History. 3 cr. hrs.
This course examines selected topics in American legal history. It focuses on the emergence of legal doctrines (e.g., contract, property, criminal law) and institutions (e.g., the changing roles of judges) in the broader social, cultural and political context. Satisfies the Law School’s perspectives requirement.

LAW 7110. Antitrust Law. 3 cr. hrs.
Analyzes the application of federal antitrust law, primarily the Sherman and Clayton Acts, to 21st century business practices, including price-fixing, exclusive dealing, trade association practices, tying, monopolization, and attempted monopolization, and their effects on competition as well as government enforcement, private party litigation, and various exemptions and immunities. It also considers the economic principles on which antitrust law is based as well as the influences of historical and political factors on the origin and evolution of antitrust law.

LAW 7115. Aviation Law. 2 cr. hrs.
This course serves as an introduction to the law of aviation and as a survey of legal issues associated with modern aviation. It covers the basic legal framework of aviation law including international treaties, federal state statutes, federal and state regulations, and case law. The course will include an introduction to the governmental regulation of aircraft, air carriers, pilots, and airports. Specific topics will include aircraft ownership, control of airspace, airport land use, aircraft manufacturing and certification, accident litigation, and aviation insurance. The course will deal with the laws that govern the safety and economics of recreational and commercial air transportation.

LAW 7122. Bar Essay Writing. 3 cr. hrs.
Focuses on developing students’ analytical, organizational, and writing skills, with the goal of enhancing each student’s ability to be successful on the essay portion of a bar examination. Covers selected material from three substantive topics routinely tested on bar examinations. Through the use of problems and exercises in a bar exam format, students learn techniques for analyzing, organizing, and writing essay questions for a bar exam. Students have multiple opportunities to practice writing answers to essay questions in these topics throughout the course and receive personalized feedback on their writing. Prereq: Completion of the required 1L curriculum.

LAW 7124. Bar Examination Foundations. 3 cr. hrs.
Focuses on developing test-taking skills necessary for success on the Multistate Bar Exam (MBE) and essay portion of a bar examination. Follows a “flipped classroom” model where students learn substantive material from three MBE subjects outside the classroom through video lectures. Class time is spent working through practice problems and discussing test-taking skills and strategies. Students have multiple opportunities to complete and receive feedback on MBE and essay questions. Note: Bar Exam Foundations is not a substitute for a commercial bar review course. Prereq: Completion of the required 1L curriculum.

LAW 7125. Business Associations. 3 cr. hrs.
This course examines the laws and principles of agency. It also explores the laws that regulate, the characteristics of, and the policies behind, different business organizations, including partnerships, limited liability companies and corporations, with a focus on the closely-held corporation. Topics covered with respect to these business organizations include: entity formation, capital structure and financing, the rights and obligations of the equity holders and managers, and fiduciary duties of managers.

LAW 7126. Business Torts. 3 cr. hrs.
Examination of law relating to such business torts as business defamation, product disparagement, interference with contractual obligation, and wrongful discharge.

LAW 7128. Business Basics for Lawyers. 2 cr. hrs.
Introduces basic business, economic and finance concepts and issues to students with little or no business knowledge or experience. Aims to reduce the insecurity that not knowing these basic concepts and issues can produce in students entering foundational post-1L courses dealing with, e.g., business associations, taxation, antitrust, securities, bankruptcy, and real estate. The material discussed also proves useful to students pursuing studies in areas such as divorce, estate planning, and small business. Introduces students to issues such as debt and equity, interest rates, present value, real estate, accounting and financial reporting, securities, trading in stocks and bonds, and related topics. Not open to students who had a major or minor in business as an undergraduate, or has earned or is enrolled in an MBA program.

LAW 7134. Constitutional Criminal Procedure. 3 cr. hrs.
Focus on constitutional issues relating to the investigative stage of a criminal case. Issues considered include investigatory detention; arrest, search, and seizure; interrogation of suspects; and procedures used to identify suspects.

LAW 7135. Constitutional Law 2: Speech and Equality. 3 cr. hrs.
Focus on the principal individual rights protections of the United States Constitution: Equal protection, including race and sex discrimination, and the emerging conflict over “reverse” discrimination; freedom of expression, including the law of subversive advocacy, defamation, obscenity, and commercial speech; and the problem of state action, the relationship between the Constitution and private discrimination.

LAW 7137. Contemporary Legal Issues. 1-3 cr. hrs.
Courses on various contemporary legal issues proposed by faculty members and approved by the Law School Curriculum Committee. Courses under this title may be repeated where the subject matter is different.
LAW 7138. Corporate Finance. 2 cr. hrs.
Examination of the ways in which corporations gain access to capital. This course may cover, among other things, equity securities, debt securities, futures, forwards, options, warrants, leverage and portfolio theory. Prereq: LAW 7125.

LAW 7139. Creditor-Debtor Law. 3 cr. hrs.
Examination of substantive and procedural state and federal law relating to creditors and consumer debtors, including Federal Bankruptcy Law. The bankruptcy focus is primarily on Chapter 7 and Chapter 13 bankruptcies.

LAW 7140. Criminal Process. 3 cr. hrs.
An examination of the progression of a criminal case from the initial decision to charge through post-trial proceedings, including the decision to prosecute, judicial screening, bail, discovery, pretrial motions, plea negotiations, trial, and sentencing. The principal objectives are to equip students with a knowledge of the operation of the criminal justice system and to explore the ways in which lawyers fulfill the prosecutor and defense functions. Prereq: LAW 7003.

LAW 7141. Copyrights. 3 cr. hrs.
Builds on LAW 7232 and covers copyright law in more detail, including copyrightability, ownership, infringement, and fair use. Prereq: LAW 7232.

LAW 7142. Community and Economic Development. 3 cr. hrs.
Community and Economic Development (CED) Law fills the gap when market forces are not sufficient to provide low-income communities with the affordable housing and other services they need. Topics include an overview of the real estate development process, an in-depth analysis of incentives used by the CED industry such as low-income housing tax credits, HOME funds, New Market Tax Credits, Renewable Tax Credits, Tax Incremental Districts, Business Improvement Districts, Brownfields incentives, and other resources. An emphasis is placed on how entrepreneurship and the real estate development process in core urban areas differ from entrepreneurship and development driven by market forces. Students interested in real estate law, contracts, small businesses law, tax law, non-profit law and urban issues will benefit most from this course.

LAW 7144. Community Prosecution. 3 cr. hrs.
In this course, students will examine the shift of American prosecutors away from a response-driven model to an innovative and nationally recognized proactive model focused on preventing crime and increasing quality of life. Prosecutors across the United States are embracing the idea that communities are the central institution for crime prevention, and the success or failure of prosecutors, police, schools, and families are dependent on that community foundation. Community Prosecutors are now asked to use their legal knowledge in the field with police officers, use their communication skills to reach out to community members, use their courtroom and trial skills to prosecute the most violent criminals, and use their creativity to fashion appropriate alternatives to traditional prosecutions.

LAW 7148. Crime and Punishment in American History. 3 cr. hrs.
Throughout American history, legal definitions of, and responses to, crime have shifted in many important ways as social values have changed. Surveys the dynamic relationship between criminal law, legal institutions, and social change in America from the colonial period to the present. Satisfies the Law School’s Perspectives requirement. Prereq: LAW 7003.

LAW 7150. Current Issues in Business and Commercial Law. 2-3 cr. hrs.
This is a variable topic course relating to diverse issues encountered in the practice of business or commercial law, such as business bankruptcy, antitrust, and trade law.

LAW 7151. Current Issues in Civil Dispute Resolution. 2-3 cr. hrs.
This is a variable topic course addressing current issues that arise in the context of civil litigation and dispute resolution.

This course focuses on advanced issues in the substantive law of crimes, criminal evidence, or criminal procedure.

LAW 7153. Current Issues in Environmental Law. 2-3 cr. hrs.
This is a variable topic course addressing current issues that arise in the practice of environmental law.

LAW 7154. Current Issues in Estate Planning. 2-3 cr. hrs.
This is a variable topic course addressing current issues that arise in the practice of estate planning law.

LAW 7155. Current Issues in Family Law. 2-3 cr. hrs.
This is a variable topic course addressing current issues that arise in the practice of family law.

LAW 7156. Current Issues in Health Law. 2-3 cr. hrs.
Selected current issues in health law, including such topics as public health issues, forensic sciences, health care finance and delivery reform, and genetics behavior, and the law.

Selected current issues in intellectual property and technology law, including such topics as computer law, entertainment law, and the law of biotechnology.

LAW 7158. Current Issues in International, Comparative and Foreign Law. 2-3 cr. hrs.
This is a variable topic course addressing current issues that arise in the context of international, comparative, and foreign law.

LAW 7159. Current Issues in Labor and Employment Law. 2-3 cr. hrs.
This is a variable topic course addressing current issues that arise in the practice of labor and employment law.
LAW 7160. Current Issues in Real Estate Law. 2-3 cr. hrs.
This is a variable topic course addressing current issues that arise in the practice of real estate law.

A variable topic course addressing current issues that arise in the context of sports law.

LAW 7162. Current Issues in Taxation. 2-3 cr. hrs.
This is a variable topic course addressing current issues that arise in the law of taxation.

LAW 7160. Education Law. 3 cr. hrs.
This course examines the law and legal problems facing elementary and secondary schools, colleges and universities. Studies focus on legal issues involving students, faculty, administrators and staff.

LAW 7162. Electronic Discovery. 2 cr. hrs.
An examination of the procedures for the discovery of electronically stored information under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and state rules of civil procedure. Consideration is given to such subjects as form of production of electronically stored information, cost shifting, and discovery of electronically stored information that is not reasonably accessible. The use of digital evidence is also explored. Prereq: LAW 7000.

LAW 7164. Employment Discrimination. 3 cr. hrs.
Examination of state and federal laws prohibiting employment discrimination, including the Equal Pay Act, Title VII, Age Discrimination in Employment Act, Rehabilitation Act, Americans with Disabilities Act, reconstruction era civil rights legislation, and executive orders.

LAW 7165. Employment Law. 3 cr. hrs.
Examination of the rights and obligations of employers and employees. This course is far broader then the Employment Discrimination course but covers discrimination only minimally. The wide range of topics covered may include: the status and decline of the employer's traditional right to terminate employees "at will", employees' rights to sue for termination against public policy or under various statutes, such as whistleblower and anti-discrimination laws; the enforceability as of employment handbooks, letters, and oral communications; minimum/overtime wage claims and other wage-and-hour rights; public employees' constitutional First Amendment and Due Process rights; employees' rights to family/medical leave; and the common law of various employee/employer rights and obligations as to, for example, defamation, non-competition/non-solicitation agreements, and privacy rights.

LAW 7167. Environmental Law. 3 cr. hrs.
An introduction to the law of pollution control and management of hazardous materials, with a particular emphasis on the major federal environmental statutes, including the National Environmental Policy Act, Clean Air Act, Clean Water Act, the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, and Superfund. The contrasting regulatory mechanisms in different statutes, with consideration given to the economic and ethical assumptions underlying the different approaches, and the resolution of environmental problems through private litigation, federal regulation, economic incentive systems, and judicial review of administrative decisions are examined. Prereq: LAW 7006, LAW 7007 and completion of 27 credits.

LAW 7169. Evidence. 3 cr. hrs.
Survey of the law of evidence, focusing upon the Federal Rules of Evidence and corresponding Wisconsin rules. Subjects covered include evidentiary burdens and presumptions, relevancy, hearsay, impeachment and examination of witnesses, selected privileges, and authentication of physical and demonstrative evidence.

LAW 7200. Family Law. 3 cr. hrs.
This course covers the basic conceptual and substantive divisions in divorce and adoption law. Topics covered include fault and no-fault divorce, financial consequences of divorce, custody, common law and statutory rules for adoption, termination of parental rights, ethical and policy issues in family law, and interviewing and counseling the family law client.

LAW 7201. Family Law and ADR. 3 cr. hrs.
Examines the special issues that arise when alternative dispute resolution is employed to resolve conflicts among family members. Focuses on the dynamics of and necessary dispute resolution techniques for family-centered situations such as negotiation or mediation of prenuptial cohabitation, separation and divorce agreements; custody mediation, TPR (termination of parental rights) mediation, collaborative divorce, and estate settlement negotiations. Also considers ethical issues that are particularly relevant to the family/ADR context. Prereq: LAW 7200, which may be taken concurrently.

LAW 7203. Federal Courts. 3 cr. hrs.
Study of doctrines relating to justiciability, congressional control over federal court jurisdiction, tensions in the allocation of judicial power between state and federal systems, and constitutional and statutory bases of federal judicial power. Prereq: LAW 7000, LAW 7001.

LAW 7204. Federal Criminal Procedure. 3 cr. hrs.
An examination of various aspects of federal criminal law and procedure. Federal crimes considered may include drug trafficking, currency reporting and money laundering, RICO and continuing criminal enterprise, mail fraud, Hobbs Act violations, and offenses under criminal civil rights statutes. Various federal procedures are also studied, including initiation of prosecution by grand jury, indictment, bail and denial of release under the Bail Reform Act, discovery and other pretrial proceedings, the operation of the Speedy Trial Act, plea agreements, jury trials, and sentencing under the Federal Sentencing Guidelines.

LAW 7205. Federal Income Taxation of Individuals. 3 cr. hrs.
Overview of statutes, regulations, and cases relating to federal income taxation with particular emphasis on fundamental principles and provisions relevant to the practice of various legal specialties involving acquisitions, ownership, sales, exchanges and donative transfers of property, debtor/creditor and bankruptcy problems, divorce and civil litigation.
LAW 7206. Federal Indian Law. 3 cr. hrs.
A critical analysis, drawing from a variety of perspectives, of the legal principles governing the relationships among Indian tribes, the federal government, and the states. Satisfies the Law School’s perspectives requirement. Prereq: LAW 7001, LAW 7004 and LAW 7005.

LAW 7207. Federal Taxation of Estates, Gifts and Trusts. 3 cr. hrs.
Examination of federal estate and gift taxes, as well as income taxation of decedents’ estates, trusts and their beneficiaries. Prereq: LAW 7205 and LAW 7332.

LAW 7209. Federal Taxation of Corporations and Shareholders. 3 cr. hrs.
Federal taxation of corporations and shareholders including tax considerations relevant to organizing, operating, selling, merging, reorganizing and liquidating a corporation. Prereq: LAW 7205 and LAW 7125.

LAW 7210. Federal Taxation of Partnerships and S-Corporations. 3 cr. hrs.
An examination of federal income tax aspects of organization and operation of partnerships, including formation transactions between partner and partnership, transfer of partnership interests, allocation of income and expenses, basis adjustments, death or retirement of a partner, and the use of limited partnerships. Consideration also given to federal income tax aspects of small corporations electing Subchapter S status. Prereq: LAW 7205 and LAW 7125.

LAW 7215. The First Amendment. 3 cr. hrs.
A comprehensive examination of the speech and religion guarantees of the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. Insofar as speech is concerned, the course will, among other objectives, (a) explore the principal categories of content-based expression — among them incitement, defamation, obscenity, child pornography, and commercial speech; and (b) probe the special constitutional rules created for distinctive contexts — such as the American public school — in an effort to reconcile the expressive rights of individuals with the responsibility of government to retain an ordered society. Insofar as the Constitution’s twin protections for religious liberty are concerned, we will explore a host of anti-establishment and free exercise concerns. On the anti-establishment side, issues will include prayer, moments of silence, and the pledge of allegiance in the nation’s public schools; government-sponsored displays of religious significance; and public financial assistance alleged to benefit religion and religious institutions. On the free exercise side, we will examine the constitutional allocation produced when religious practices — among them Sabbath worship, the rejection of compulsory education, animal sacrifice, drug use, and conscientious objection — meet up with the contrary demands of civil society. This examination will culminate in our consideration of the landmark Supreme Court decision construing the free exercise guarantee in a manner alleged to reflect insufficient concern for the practices of minority religions, the effort in Congress to overturn that decision, and ensuing developments. The course will pause periodically to explore both Wisconsin’s contributions to the development of the First Amendment law (for instance, in areas of school choice and crimes of hate) and the ways in which such law plays out on the ground in communities across Wisconsin (e.g., the controversy in Wauwatosa concerning the cross on the municipality’s emblem). Satisfies the Law School’s public law requirement. Not open to students who have taken Constitutional Law 2: Speech and Equality or Seminar: Advanced Issues in the First Amendment. Satisfies the Law School’s Public Law requirement.

LAW 7220. Health Care Provider Liability. 3 cr. hrs.
Focuses on Wisconsin statutory and case law, as well as national trends, in the liability of health care providers. Brought to life by real fact patterns from litigated cases, students learn who is a “patient,” what constitutes a “health care provider,” and what are the claims and causes of actions that can be brought against those in the health care field. Covers Wisconsin and national standards used to determine concepts such as “causation” of injury, “substantial factor,” “sine qua non,” “increasing the risk of harm,” and “loss of chance.” In addition, timely topics such as tort reform, limitations of actions and damages, and public policy related to claims pertaining to health care providers are surveyed and discussed. Effective, efficient, and ethical representation of plaintiffs and/or defendants is part of the course focus. Prereq: LAW 7007 and completion of 27 credits.

LAW 7221. Health Law. 3 cr. hrs.
Introduces topics in Health Care Law including professional licensing and regulation; access to health care; government and private financing roles and strategies; health care reform; quality assurance, patient safety and liability; health care fraud and abuse; discrimination and unequal treatment; privacy laws; workplace violence in the health care setting; issues relating to the provision of behavioral health care; and ethical dilemmas in health care, including those relating to reproductive and end of life care. Prereq: Completion of 27 credits.

LAW 7222. Health Care Fraud and Abuse. 2 cr. hrs.
Heath care fraud and abuse encompasses a variety of administrative and judicial actions against individual and institutional health care providers who file false claims for payment, make business agreements involving excessive profits, kickbacks or unnecessary services, or engage in other practices defined as fraud and abuse under federal criminal and civil statutes. Uses statutes, case law and commentary to identify the various forms of fraud and self-dealing, and the law’s response. Provides an introduction to the Medicare and Medicaid Anti-Kickback statutes and False Claims Act, and an overview of topics including conspiracy, mail and wire fraud, and RICO as applied within the scope of healthcare. Prereq: LAW 7221, recommended.

LAW 7231. Insurance. 3 cr. hrs.
Study of the law relating to insurance, including consideration of insurance contract formation, contract interpretation, government regulation of the insurance business, and problems associated with common coverages such as fire, property, life, health, disability, and liability insurance. Also includes analysis of special issues relating to liability insurance defense and settlement, coordination of multiple coverages and the secondary insurance market. Prereq: LAW 7002, LAW 7007.

LAW 7232. Intellectual Property Law. 3 cr. hrs.
Covers the basics of United States intellectual property law, including patents, copyrights, trademarks, trade secrets and misappropriation. Addresses the policies underlying the protection of intellectual property and compares the different ways organizations and individuals can use intellectual property to protect their interests. Intended both for students who want an introduction to intellectual property and for those who intend to pursue a career in intellectual property. Prereq: LAW 7000, LAW 7007. Completion of the 1L curriculum, recommended.
LAW 7235. International Law. 3 cr. hrs.
Introduces the basic sources and subject matter of international law and then turns toward an examination of the legal institutions creating and implementing international law—the United Nations, the World Trade organization, and regional institutions such as the European Union and NAFTA. Explores specific topics such as environmental law, human rights, armed conflict, and dispute resolution. Prereq: LAW 7000, LAW 7001 and LAW 7003.

LAW 7236. Internet Law. 3 cr. hrs.
The internet is reshaping several discrete areas of law in both obvious and subtle ways. This course will cover the development of law applicable to the internet, including laws governing online distribution of copyrighted works, domain names and other trademark issues, e-commerce, spam, speech restrictions and filtering, privacy, computer security, server property rights, jurisdiction and other issues. The class will focus not on what the law is, but what it should be, and how courts, legislatures, and practitioners should go about deciding such questions. Throughout we will consider whether there is any unifying theme to “Internet Law”, and if so, what that theme might be. A technical background is not necessary.

LAW 7237. Introduction to Forensic Science and the Law. 2 cr. hrs.
Designed to provide the student with a comprehensive understanding of today's crime laboratories and investigative techniques used in the proper collection, preservation and analysis of evidence. Students are introduced to scientific and technological procedures as they are applied in today's criminal justice system. Introduces the basic principles and uses of forensic science and presents basic applications of the biological, chemical, physical and medical sciences and their presentation in court with particular attention to patterned evidence examination. Discusses the expectations and the limitations of the forensic sciences. Study the nature and significance of the relationship between the courts and the forensic sciences while examining issues regarding the philosophy of science, the scientific method, the rules of evidence and the conduct of trials. Discusses the level of scrutiny required to admit forensic evidence and the extent to which forensic evidence squares with usual or expected scientific standards and practices. Discusses whether scientific conclusions actually assist the trier of fact to arrive at a decision. Critical thinking skills are tested as the student applies scientific conclusions to legal principles. Addresses search and seizure, the rules of evidence and the rules of criminal procedure which dictate the manner in which forensic science and analysis are introduced and challenged in court. Prereq: LAW 7191; LAW 7134 and LAW 7140, recommended.

LAW 7239. Judging and the Judicial Process. 3 cr. hrs.
Focuses on courts as institutions and on judges as the primary actors within those institutions. Anticipated topics include judicial selection; judicial ethics; the concepts of judicial independence and accountability and their relationship to one another; the meaningfulness of notions such as judicial activism and judicial inactivism; judicial decision making (both as reported by judges and as analyzed by political scientists, psychologists, and other outsiders); the purpose and appropriateness of specialized courts; managerial or bureaucratic judging; a smattering of jurisprudence; and consideration of how all of these things are affected by changes in the nature and number of cases coming before the courts. Satisfies the Law School's perspectives requirement.

LAW 7240. Jurisprudence. 3 cr. hrs.
Examination of philosophical problems raised by the institution of the law, including the nature of law, its authority, the relationship between law and morality, the nature of judicial reasoning, and the moral and social foundations of particular legal doctrines. Topics may vary depending upon interests of the instructor. Satisfies the Law School's perspectives requirement.

LAW 7241. Juvenile Law. 3 cr. hrs.
Examines the theory, practice, and history of juvenile delinquency, guardianship, protection and removal, termination of parental rights, and related laws, with special emphasis on Wisconsin law. Prereq: LAW 7003, LAW 7140.

LAW 7260. Labor Law. 3 cr. hrs.
Survey of the law of labor relations, including organization and representation of employees, strikes, picketing, boycotts, and collective bargaining.

LAW 7261. Parent, Child and State. 3 cr. hrs.
This course introduces students to the use of social science methods and theories in the law. Methodologies and some basic theories of sociology and psychology will be studied. After introducing basic concepts, the course will focus on applying social science analysis to legislation and cases in the area of family law, juvenile law and child protection. Satisfies the Law School's perspectives requirement.

LAW 7263. Law and Poverty. 3 cr. hrs.
Critically examines the relationships between law and poverty. Questions to be addressed include: To what extent do law and legal institutions contribute to fairness and equality for the urban poor? To what extent do law and legal institutions exacerbate the problems and difficulties of the urban poor?.

LAW 7264. Law and Popular Culture. 3 cr. hrs.
This course explores the interrelationships of law and popular culture. Participants consider the portrayal of law, lawyers, legal institutions, and law-related themes in such popular media as film, radio, television, and literature.

LAW 7265. Law And Religion. 3 cr. hrs.
An exploration of the interface between law and religion, primarily within the context of the American legal system. The following areas may be examined: the historical and conceptual relationships between law and religion; the history, theory and doctrine of the religion clauses of the First Amendment, and the “no religious Test” clause of article VI of the U.S. Constitution; analogous provisions of state constitutions; various federal and state statutory provisions addressing religious freedom (including conscientious objection), religious discrimination, and the taxation and regulation of religious entities; the role of religion in specific legal decision-making contexts such as health care and child custody; the influence of religious values on legal actors such as judges, legislators, lawyers, and jurors; the proper role of religion in law and politics; the role of religion in international law and the law of human rights; and the search for a legal or constitutional definition of religion. Satisfies the Law School's perspectives requirement. Prereq: LAW 7001.
LAW 7266. The Law Governing Lawyers. 3 cr. hrs.
An introduction to legal and ethical principles governing lawyers, the legal profession, and the practice of law. Study of the principal ways in which lawyers are regulated -- through bar admission, lawyer disciplinary actions, and legal malpractice suits. The course explores the lawyer-client relationship and the scope and limits of duties owed to the client, the legal system, and third parties.

LAW 7267. Privacy. 3 cr. hrs.
A survey of privacy law, including tort actions for invasion of privacy, constitutional privacy principles, privacy of health care records, and privacy in employment. Selected statutes that affect privacy interests are studied, including wiretap laws, fair credit reporting, and access to governmental information (FOIA.) Privacy issues of current interest are addressed, including privacy in adoption, transfer and use of consumer information, and regulation of the internet. Prereq: LAW 7001, LAW 7007.

LAW 7269. Legislation. 3 cr. hrs.
The development and interpretation of state and federal statutory law, including the roles of legislators and legislative committees, the executive branch and administrative agencies, the judiciary, the electorate, and special interests. Prereq: LAW 7001, LAW 7004 and LAW 7005.

LAW 7271. Local Government Law. 3 cr. hrs.
Legislative control over local government; home rule; the scope of municipal powers; police power; land use control and other current urban legal problems. Prereq: Completion of 27 credits.

LAW 7280. Managed Health Care. 3 cr. hrs.
Managed Health Care law examines the expanding field of legal practice in the ever-changing health care industry. The movement of many (if not all) employers to some form of “managed care,” the continued consolidation within insurance, hospitals, and medical market sectors, and a multitude of proposed and enacted laws and regulations and court decisions make this area fertile ground for myriad types of legal work. Managed Health Care Law offers the student an understanding of the health care industry itself, the rise (and potential recession) of “traditional” managed care, and the significant roles attorneys play in virtually all areas of both. The course will also introduce students to the wide range of practice settings in which lawyers are involved in the health care industry and the various clients they represent.

LAW 7282. Mergers & Acquisitions. 2 cr. hrs.
Explores the field of corporate “mergers and acquisitions” (acquisitions and divestitures of business entities) from the perspective of the practicing lawyer. Attention is given to both the law governing corporate transactions and the practice of “M&A” law, including the lawyer’s multiple roles as advisor, negotiator, and scrivener. Students gain an understanding of the fundamental legal principles governing such transactions and the basic skills required of lawyers who represent the parties involved in them. Prereq: LAW 7125.

LAW 7286. Milwaukee Street Law Project. 2 cr. hrs.
Law students teach a two-semester course to Milwaukee public high school students that is designed to foster in the high school students an understanding of the law, legal process, our system of governance, and effective citizenship. To accomplish this the law students devote three hours per week at their assigned high schools. In the fall semester law students teach such subjects as criminal law and procedure, juvenile justice, driver licensing, consumer law, torts, family law, housing law, and individual rights law. In the spring semester the law students teach basic trial advocacy skills and their high school students participate as lawyers and witnesses in a city-wide mock trial competition presided over by federal and state trial court judges. Throughout the school year, law students also help their high school students develop basic academic skills such as reading, writing, listening, oral expression, problem solving and analytical thinking; they also teach skills necessary for responsible participation in a democratic society. A two-hour seminar is conducted for the law students each week which focuses on substantive law as well as interactive teaching methodologies. Law students are required to submit weekly journals, lesson plans, and timesheets. Among the lawyering skills emphasized are critical thinking, organization and prioritization, planning and preparation, and effective communication with lay persons.

LAW 7292. Nonprofit Law and Organizations. 2-3 cr. hrs.
Course will cover basic concepts in nonprofit organizations with emphasis on formation, drafting or organizational and operational documents, maintenance and record keeping, tax consequences and state and federal requirements. Governance, fundraising strategies and regulations and the role of nonprofits in the community will also be explored.

LAW 7300. Patent and Trade Secret Law. 3 cr. hrs.
Builds on LAW 7232 and covers patent and trade secret law in more detail, including: patent disclosure requirements; patentability; the scope of patent grants; claim interpretation, infringement, and remedies; and trade secrets and their interaction with patents. Prereq: LAW 7232.

LAW 7302. Products Liability. 2-3 cr. hrs.
Explores all aspects of the law of products liability. Focuses primarily on the common law development of the subject, but also covers statutory and regulatory aspects of product safety. Torts and Contracts are prerequisites, but is suitable for those who did not cover products liability in their first-year Torts class. Prereq: LAW 7002, LAW 7007.

LAW 7303. Professional Sports Law. 3 cr. hrs.
Covers various legal issues affecting the professional sports industries and focuses on antitrust, labor, contracts, regulations of private associations, regulation of athlete agents and their ethical duties, and intellectual property and sports broadcasting issues. Prereq: Completion of 27 credits. LAW 7125, recommended.
LAW 7305. Peacemaking and Spirituality. 1 cr. hr.
Examines the influence of spirituality upon the process of resolving conflict and making peace in the context of intense interpersonal and intrapersonal conflicts in multiple settings, including in intimate relationships, friendships, families, workplaces, between communities, among current or former enemies, or within ourselves. During the past two decades, the field of conflict resolution and mediation has grown extensively in multiple settings throughout North America, Europe, and other parts of the world. Whereas conflict resolution theory and practice focuses upon a problem solving model to address the presenting dispute, peacemaking addresses conflict at a much deeper level. Peacemaking is based on a humanistic and transformative theory of conflict that draws heavily upon core values of empowerment, mutual recognition, collaboration, dialogue, and healing, as well as the ancient wisdom and practices of many diverse indigenous cultures throughout the world (including Native American and Celtic traditions). Within the context of these traditions, true peacemaking is inseparable from spirituality, from honoring the sacred and recognizing our interconnectedness. For the purposes of this course, spirituality is not synonymous with the dogma and creeds of the major religious traditions in the world, even though religion for many may serve as a pathway to spirituality. Practices within the major religions of the world that foster peacemaking, however, will be explored, along with the practices from a number of different cultures. Designed to provide a basic understanding of the core principles and practices of peacemaking and spirituality in the context of multiple interpersonal, community, national, and international settings.

LAW 7310. Real Estate Transactions. 3 cr. hrs.
This course introduces students to the fundamentals of a general real estate practice. The course will examine a variety of real estate contracts, deeds, and techniques of title assurance. Drafting exercises will focus on transactional considerations.

LAW 7311. Real Estate Finance and Development. 3 cr. hrs.
In the context of commercial real estate transactions, this course examines the nature of mortgages and mortgage substitutes, pre-closing and post-closing terms and conditions of mortgage loan commitments, construction financing, defaults, workouts and foreclosures. Throughout the course relevant tax considerations will be examined. Prereq: LAW 7205.

LAW 7320. Sales. 3 cr. hrs.
An examination of Article 2 of the Uniform Commercial Code, including contract formation, performance, and remedies. Prereq: LAW 7002.

LAW 7321. Secured Transactions. 3 cr. hrs.
The study of Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code P Secured Transactions. Focuses on the creation of security interests; the perfection of security interests; the priority of security interests; the rights of buyers of secured collateral; and the rights and remedies available for secured creditors and debtors upon default. Prereq: LAW 7002.

LAW 7322. Securities Regulation. 3 cr. hrs.

LAW 7323. Sentencing. 3 cr. hrs.
An introduction to the law of sentencing and examining the procedures and substantive rules governing the imposition of criminal sanctions in both federal and state court systems. A seminar course that provides a review of the Supreme Court's most recent constitutional rulings, in-depth treatment of certain topics from the basic constitutional law courses, exposure to several topics normally not covered in those courses, and a survey of emerging constitutional issues. Prereq: LAW 7001.

Engages students in advanced exercises in legal writing. The goal is to deepen a student's command of the writing process and to expand a student's ability to develop, structure, and write legal texts for a variety of writing purposes and audiences. Prereq: LAW 7004, LAW 7005.

A seminar which examines the legal, social and psychological dynamics of violence directed at children.

Study of the legal issues arising from the criminal conduct of publicly held corporations and their employees. Topics addressed include theories of enterprise punishment, the utility of corporate codes of conduct, the attorney-client privilege in a corporate context, criminal RICO prosecutions, liability for mail fraud and false claims, and strategies in responding to the criminal investigation of a corporate client.

A study of the foreign policy dimensions of the U.S. constitution. Examines topics such as the Constitution's Treaty, War Powers, and Foreign Commerce Clauses; whether customary international law is part of federal common law; the role of international law in Eighth Amendment jurisprudence; and the Federal-state allocation of the authority to conduct foreign affairs. Prereq: LAW 7001.

The purpose of this course is to understand the variety of ways that countries might choose to resolve disputes among themselves as well as deal with internal disputes and conflicts. The course will start with an overview of international diplomacy, mediation, and arbitration before moving into specific conflicts and hybrid structures established to resolve disputes.

Examines the major international agreements related to patents, trademarks, and copyrights and other forms of intellectual property, which include free trade agreements such as the TRIPS Agreement, substantive treaties enforced by the World Intellectual Property Organization, and associated human rights treaties. Focuses on the scope of the protected intellectual property rights, the limits placed on the intellectual property rights, and the enforcement of the intellectual property rights. Particular attention is paid to how international, transnational, and domestic intellectual property institutions are impacted by the existence of the international intellectual property regime. Prereq: LAW 7232 and LAW 7235, recommended.

Explores the relationship of law and literature, focusing in particular on the portrayal of law, lawyers, and legal proceedings in selected essays, plays, short stories and novels. How and why is the understanding of justice different in literature than it is in the conventional legal discourse?

Focuses on the relationship between law and the visual and dramatic arts. In particular, focuses on the legal and policy implications at the intersection of national and international art (visual and dramatic) and law, including intellectual property and international law. The artist's rights in the visual and dramatic context, including copyright and moral rights, artistic expression in varied cultural traditions, illicit trading, reparations, destruction of art, and museums and non-profit organizations are studied.

The seminar will examine theories of legal meaning and its implications discussed by contemporary critics. Students will consider legal and social implications of questions of violence and power arising in the works of authors such as Robert Cover, Catharine MacKinnon, Robin West, Michel Foucault, Philip Selznicke, Ronald Dworkin, Jerome Brunek, Cass Sunstein, Paul Ricoeur, Anthony Amsterdam and others. It is hoped that students of the seminar will develop a renewed appreciation for the complex manner in which law affects our lives in ways we may not perceive immediately. No previous knowledge of philosophy or sociology is required of participants in the seminar.

This seminar will critically examine the relationships between law and legal institutions and the contemporary urban poor. Questions to be addressed will include: To what extent do law and legal institutions contribute to fairness and equality for the urban poor? To what extent do law and legal institutions exacerbate the problems and difficulties of the urban poor?

This seminar will examine topics in tax law and policy. Prereq: LAW 7205.

LAW 7581. Seminar: The Supreme Court. 2 cr. hrs.
This seminar will be run as a Supreme Court, with the students assuming the roles of both the justices and, in turns, the lawyers. Specifically, we will usecases that will be argued before the Supreme Court of the United States or the Wisconsin Supreme Court in the semester in which the seminar is offered. The students will be required to orally argue one case and to write one majority opinion and one dissent in cases that other students have argued. The course should be of interest not only to students expecting to engage in appellate advocacy, but also to anyone seeking to improve his or her oral and written legal skills. Prereq: LAW 7004 and LAW 7005.

Tort law has always grappled with cutting edge issues created by new technologies. Explores tort law’s applicability to several problems that are currently working their way through the tort system in one form or another: liability issues presented by the expected rise of autonomous vehicles, efforts to hold prescription drug manufacturers liable for the opioid epidemic, the use of tort law as a mechanism for addressing harms caused by climate change, litigation against the National Football League relating to the long-term effects caused by concussions, and tort law’s response to modern privacy harms that occur online. Begins with an exploration of tort theory, designed to expose students to the diverse range of academic approaches to tort law and help develop a deeper understanding of the tort system. Moves on to a discussion of how tort law can and should (or can’t and shouldn’t) respond to the various problems listed above. Prereq: LAW 7007.

LAW 7585. Seminar: Tax Policy. 2 cr. hrs.
Explores fundamental issues concerning the country’s Federal income tax. Topics include whether tax rates should be progressive or flat, whether the tax structure should treat taxpayers as individuals or as parts of family groups, whether capital gains should be taxed at lower rates and whether the double tax imposed on corporate income should be eliminated. Also explores whether the income tax should be replaced with some form of a consumption tax, such as a value added tax. Prereq: LAW 7205.

LAW 7587. Seminar: Truth and Falsehood. 2 cr. hrs.
While truthfulness is an important legal and ethical value, the law does not consistently require truthfulness in our dealings with others, even in circumstances where the stakes are high. There are many examples: The law tolerates some willful and material lies by government officials during the course of criminal investigations. Lawyers are generally permitted to withhold crucial information in fulfillment of their duty of confidentiality. Although witnesses in legal proceedings must swear to tell the whole truth, the rules of evidence may prohibit them from doing so. This seminar analyzes where courts have drawn the line in permitting and punishing deception.
LAW 7588. Seminar: Wisconsin Legal History. 2 cr. hrs.
The main themes in American legal and constitutional history are explored through a case study of the legal experience of the state of Wisconsin. Topics include Wisconsin’s pre-1848 experience as a territory; the drafting of the first state constitution; the role of law in the economic development of the state; legal attitudes concerning ethnicity, race and gender; the development of the legal profession; legal education; progressivism and the rise of the bureaucratic state; and legal recognition of the rights of consumers.
