History

Chairperson: James A. Marten, Ph.D.
Department of History website (http://www.marquette.edu/history)

History illuminates every aspect of the human experience—politics, economics, religion, social issues, art and war—shaping our memory and equipping us to think critically and constructively about the present and our connections to the past. The history curriculum orders the study of the past in logical and meaningful ways. Beginning with surveys that offer general approaches to broad periods of history, students move on to upper division classes that challenge students to read and write about specific subjects and places in more depth. They finish their degrees by reading deeply, conducting archival research and writing major papers on specialized topics in seminar-style readings and research courses. Students interested in further developing their understanding of history can write senior theses or undertake internships at museums, archives and other public history sites.

Major in History

The major in history consists of 33 credit hours: three required courses (9 credit hours) and eight upper division courses (24 credit hours).

HIST 4953 Readings in History, HIST 4955 Undergraduate Seminar in History and HIST 4931 Topics in History may be used to satisfy the group distribution requirement based on course content.

Notes:

- Students may enroll in HIST 5000-level graduate courses (cross-listed for undergraduates at the HIST 4000-level) with permission of the instructor.
- At the discretion of the department, credit in history may be allowed in exceptional cases for courses taken in other departments of the university.
- Students who complete HIST 1101 cannot also earn credit for HIST 2101 or 2102.
- With the approval of the director of undergraduate studies, one of HIST 1601 or HIST 1701 may be substituted for HIST 1001, HIST 1002, HIST 1101, HIST 1301, HIST 1401, HIST 1501, HIST 2101 or HIST 2102.

Department of Public Instruction Certification - Major in History

Major in History for Elementary and Secondary Education Majors

College of Education students majoring in Elementary or Secondary Education must complete the same requirements for the History major as listed above.

History B.A./M.A. Accelerated Degree Program

The Department of History offers a five-year accelerated B.A./M.A. degree program in history. Students admitted to this program may count some courses taken during their senior undergraduate year toward both the B.A. and M.A. degrees, thereby reducing the typical time needed to accomplish both degrees from six years to five. This option is especially well-suited for students pursuing careers in public history and allied fields. For additional information about requirements, interested students should see the Graduate Bulletin and contact the Department of History.

One upper-division History course thematically paired by the student with: 3

One upper-division course in another department 3

HIST 4999H Honors Senior Thesis 2

Total Credit Hours 12
The seminar series prepares students to write a Humanities Disciplinary Honors project and helps to mentor them during the writing of the project. While enrolled in HOPR 3954H students also secure individual faculty mentors for their Humanities Disciplinary Honors project. The instructor is the student’s faculty mentor for their Humanities Disciplinary Honors project.

Notes:

• Two upper-level departmental courses, one in the student’s major and one that must be in another department are required. Each must be a 3-credit, graded course and must have the approval of the HiH director. These courses are normally taken during student’s junior year. The courses in the student’s major count toward total major credits and toward other major requirements where applicable. The course in another department does not count toward major requirements.

• These two thematically paired courses are carefully chosen by the individual student to help them set a foundation for their independent research project. Ideally these offer background, help the student develop new questions and allow for new perspectives on these questions.

• Students may take these upper-level thematically paired courses concurrently or in different terms; they should have finished at least one before beginning their independent projects.

Academic Standards

Students must have a 3.200 cumulative overall grade point average for entry into the Humanities Disciplinary Honors Program. Students must achieve a 3.200 cumulative grade point average in the above 12 credit hours required in order to graduate with Humanities Disciplinary Honors. Students who complete both Core Honors and Humanities Disciplinary Honors earn a Comprehensive Honors degree. Students must have a 3.200 cumulative GPA to graduate with this degree. Students admitted to Humanities Disciplinary Honors become part of the University Honors Program and are eligible for Honors research fellowships and Honors study-abroad scholarships. If an Honors student drops below a 3.200 in any given term during the junior year or any subsequent year, the student receives a letter of warning from the director. If a student drops below a 3.200 cumulative GPA, they are placed on University Honors Program academic probation; if they do not achieve a 3.200 cumulative GPA by the end of the following term, they are removed from the program. Students must earn a grade of C or better in all courses required for Humanities Disciplinary Honors and the Comprehensive Honors degree.

Additional Requirements:

• The student must submit a written application to the program after HOPR 2954H but before HOPR 3954H that includes a description of the project they would like to pursue, a brief list of potential faculty mentors and another brief list of possible course pairings with explanations of how each might further develop the research plan. This application is read by both the director and the appropriate disciplinary committee member.

• A research proposal is produced in HOPR 3954H, for the HIST 4999H thesis project that contains a reflection on the paired courses and how they have shaped the project--including the research questions, methodology and literature review. The student also has a mentor in place for the HIST 4999H by the end of HOPR 3954H.

• The final HIST 4999H thesis project is graded by the disciplinary faculty mentor, but is also assessed by the appropriate HiH board member (eg: a thesis in History would be graded by the thesis director and then assessed by the History HiH board member on a S/U basis).

• Presentation is an important component of research and as such students are required to present their work either at the end of the HOPR 4954H term or the following term. Ideally, the student presents their work at the Marquette University Undergraduate Humanities Conference if it is held in the spring term following the HOPR 4954H.

Eligibility

Humanities Disciplinary Honors is designed to be completed during students’ junior and senior years. Sophomores interested in pursuing Humanities Disciplinary Honors should enroll in HOPR 2954H during their sophomore year. Sophomores are eligible to apply to the program near the end of the spring term as long as they meet the 3.200 minimum cumulative GPA requirement.

Application

Students are encouraged to apply following successful completion of HOPR 2954H, but applications are also accepted in the fall term of the junior year. Students apply for admission to the Honors in the Humanities director. Application materials may be obtained by contacting kristen.foster@marquette.edu.

Courses

HIST 1001. Growth of Western Civilization to 1715. 3 cr. hrs.
An interpretative survey of Western Civilization from its beginnings to the Early Modern period.

HIST 1002. Growth of Western Civilization since 1715. 3 cr. hrs.
An interpretative survey of Western Civilization from the Early Modern period to the contemporary era.

HIST 1101. Introduction to American History. 3 cr. hrs.
A survey of American history from the colonial origins to the present.
HIST 1201. History of Western Art 1. 3 cr. hrs.
Historical survey of painting, sculpture, architecture, and the minor arts representative of the main contributions of western civilization. Illustrated lectures and discussions: Prehistory, the Ancient Near East, Greco-Roman Antiquity through the Middle Ages. Does not count toward history major or minor.

HIST 1202. History of Western Art 2. 3 cr. hrs.
Historical survey of painting, sculpture, architecture, and the minor arts representative of the main contributions of western civilization. Illustrated lectures and discussions: Renaissance and Modern, to the present. Does not count toward history major or minor.

HIST 1301. Survey of Latin America. 3 cr. hrs.
Survey of Latin American history and culture from pre-Columbian times to the present, emphasizing the historical development of modern traditions, such as multi-ethnic identities and political authoritarianism, and the skills and sources for doing Latin American history.

HIST 1401. Africa. 3 cr. hrs.
Survey of African peoples and cultures, including the Sudanic empires, Islamic influences, European colonialism, and national independence, that also emphasizes the skills and sources for studying African history.

HIST 1501. East Asia. 3 cr. hrs.
Survey of major political, social and economic themes in Chinese and Japanese cultures from ancient times to the present, emphasizing major cultural and historical events which have significantly influenced the development of Asian civilization and the skills and sources for doing Asian history.

HIST 1601. Difference and Democracy. 3 cr. hrs.
Examines the difficult history of democracy and difference, by exploring diverse attempts to create a democratic society and consider how historic actors grappled with the differences, diversities and divisions among multiple groups of people. Students ask hard questions about what it means to belong to a democratic community, paying attention to which groups are included and which are left out, and examine whether history looks different if viewed from the margins rather than from the center. In the end, students ask what democracy demands of us.

HIST 1701. Engaging the World. 3 cr. hrs.
Offers students a global perspective on the diversity of human history: the many ways that different peoples, societies and cultures have encountered one another. By examining the interactions between distinctive communities in specific times and places, students become familiar with parts of the past that are seemingly foreign and remote, and explore how they have shaped our turbulent world today.

HIST 2000. Doing History. 3 cr. hrs.
Introduces students to the ways that historians examine, debate and present the past. Students learn the skills, habits of historical thinking and methodologies that inform the discipline. Each instructor presents the craft of “doing history” through a topic of their choice.

HIST 2001H. Honors The World and the West. 3 cr. hrs.
Offers a global perspective on the development of moral frameworks and explores the ethical dimensions of a series of challenging historical questions. As an Honors Program course, includes a more intensive research or project component. Prereq: Admission to Marquette University Honors Program.

HIST 2101. Growth of the American Nation 1. 3 cr. hrs.
The United States from colonial origins through the Civil War era, with consideration of political, cultural, and economic institutions and ideas.

HIST 2102. Growth of the American Nation 2. 3 cr. hrs.
The United States from the Civil War era to the present, with consideration of political, cultural, and economic institutions and ideas.

HIST 3101. Early America, 1491-1789. 3 cr. hrs.
The origins, structures and major themes in Early America. Focuses on the intersections of European, African and Native American worlds. Themes include colonization and decolonization, empire and revolution, slavery and resistance, religion and witchcraft, cross-cultural negotiation and conflict. Prereq: Soph. stndg.

HIST 3102. Revolutionary America: 1707-1787. 3 cr. hrs.
The development of an American nationality, international wars on the North American continent and in the West Indies, imperial reform, the Loyalist response, the causes and consequences of the War for Independence, the Articles of Confederation. Prereq: Soph. stndg.

HIST 3103. The New American Nation, 1787-1836. 3 cr. hrs.
The reasons for the independence movement, the hopes and failures of the founding generation, the debates over the Constitution, the roots of an American empire, westward expansion, slavery, the rise of democracy, the formation of a distinctly American identity and culture, and the endless optimism of the young republic. Prereq: Soph. stndg.

HIST 3104. The Civil War Era. 3 cr. hrs.
An examination of American history from 1831-1877, focusing on the political, social, economic and cultural differences between the North and the South. Includes discussions of the black experience during the Civil War era, of military events during the War itself and of the resolution or continuation of sectional tensions through Reconstruction. Prereq: Soph. stndg.

HIST 3106. Gilded Age to the Progressive Era, 1876-1920. 3 cr. hrs.
United States history from the end of the Civil War to World War I, emphasizing America’s shift from an agrarian country to an urban, industrial, and imperial nation. Prereq: Soph. stndg.

HIST 3107. United States in the Twentieth Century 1. 3 cr. hrs.
The United States since 1900, emphasizing the Progressive Movement, the New Deal, the role of the United States in world affairs, and the role of the presidency and intelligence community. Prereq: Soph. stndg.
HIST 3108. United States in the Twentieth Century. 2. 3 cr. hrs.
The United States since 1900, emphasizing the Progressive Movement, the New Deal, the role of the United States in world affairs, and the role of the presidency and intelligence community. Begins with World War II. Prereq: Soph. stndg.

HIST 3118. American Military History. 3 cr. hrs.
The nature and history of the military in the United States from the American Revolution to the present, with emphasis on its role and significance in American life and foreign affairs. Prereq: Soph. stndg.

HIST 3127. The Vietnam War Era. 3 cr. hrs.
Examination of the political, social, cultural, and military history of both the Vietnamese and American sides of the war in Vietnam. Prereq: Soph. stndg.

HIST 3165. History of Rock and Roll. 3 cr. hrs.
Examination of rock and roll as a political, social, and economic as well as cultural allegory for twentieth-century American history. Special attention is given to artists who epitomized styles or genres. Prereq: Soph. stndg.

HIST 3200. Ancient History's Unsolved Mysteries. 3 cr. hrs.
No period in history offers more unsolved mysteries than the ancient world. Students explore some of the burning questions of Ancient History: Where is the lost city of Atlantis? How (and why) were the pyramids built? Where is the tomb of Alexander the Great? How can we explain the disappearance of the 9th Spanish legion of the Roman imperial army? Through a seminar/lecture format, students work together to locate and interpret literary, mythical, archaeological and anthropological material to create a historical narrative surrounding the unsolved mysteries covered. Prereq: Soph. stndg.

HIST 3201. Ancient Greece and Rome. 3 cr. hrs.
The course traces Greek history from the Minoans and Mycenaeans to the Hellenistic world, with stress on politics, literature and art; the rise of Rome, the decay of the Roman republic, the high civilization of the Emperors, the rise of Christianity, and the Fall of the Empire. Prereq: Soph. stndg.; HIST 1001 and HIST 1002 recommended.

HIST 3205. The Byzantine Empire. 3 cr. hrs.
History of Byzantine Empire bridging from late antiquity to early modernity and stretching over three continents. Surveys imperial political, economic, social and cultural policies and developments and especially the empire's encounters and interactions with Slavs, Western Europeans, Persians, Berbers, Arabs, and Turks. Prereq: Soph. standing; HIST 1001 recommended.

HIST 3210. The Middle Ages. 3 cr. hrs.
This course examines the emergence and development of a distinct medieval society from a mixture of Roman, Christian, and Germanic cultures. Specific topics include political fragmentation and reorganization, the growth of towns and commerce, innovative religious movements, as well as later medieval upheavals. It also considers the sibling Mediterranean cultures of the Islamic world and the Byzantine Empire. HIST 1001 and HIST 1002 recommended.

HIST 3220. The Renaissance. 3 cr. hrs.
Europe from the Black Death to Erasmus, with stress on Western Europe, especially Italy, and the intellectual and artistic achievements of the age. Prereq: Soph. stndg.; HIST 1001 and HIST 1002 recommended.

HIST 3225. War and Religion in Early Modern Europe, 1500-1650. 3 cr. hrs.
The course, which stresses political and religious history, begins with the late medieval church, then studies Luther and Calvin and the rise of Protestantism, the Catholic Reformation, and the Wars of Religion. Prereq: Soph. stndg.; HIST 1001 and HIST 1002 recommended.

HIST 3232. Reaction, Revolution, and Nationalism: 1814 to 1914. 3 cr. hrs.
A survey of the political, economic and cultural institutions of the Western European States in the aftermath of the French Revolution and Napoleon. Principal states include Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, the Low Countries and Spain. Prereq: Soph. stndg.; HIST 1001 and HIST 1002 recommended.

HIST 3235. Twentieth Century Europe. 3 cr. hrs.
Europe from 1914 to the present, including: World War I and the consequences of the peace settlement, the growth of totalitarianism, World War II, and the development of collective security. Prereq: Soph. stndg.; HIST 1001 and HIST 1002 recommended.

A survey of the causes, course and consequences of the First World War. Beginning with events and military operations in Europe, the course also will treat the war outside of Europe and at sea, as well as the political, social, economic and intellectual impact of the "war to end all wars." Prereq: Soph. stndg.; HIST 1001 and HIST 1002 recommended.

HIST 3297. World War II. 3 cr. hrs.
A survey of the causes, course, and consequences of the Second World War. Focuses on the European theater including military developments, propaganda, the defeat of German and Japanese imperialism, the impact of the war on society, and the origins of the Cold War. Prereq: Soph. stndg.; HIST 1001 and HIST 1002 recommended.

HIST 3455. Modern Middle East Since 1500. 3 cr. hrs.
A survey of the Middle East from antiquity to modernity. Caliphates and sultanates are featured as well as European incursions and invasions. Colonialism and post-colonialism also receive particular attention. Concludes by examining contemporary conditions. Prereq: Soph. stndg.; HIST 1001 and HIST 1002 recommended.
HIST 3751. History and Philosophy of Crime and Punishment. 3 cr. hrs.
A study of crime and punishment from both the historical and philosophical perspectives. The course will emphasize the European experience as a foundation for understanding American developments. Emphasis will be placed on the interdisciplinary aspects of crime and punishment. Prereq: Soph. stndg. and PHIL 1001; same as PHIL 3751 and CRLS 3751.

An introduction to the field of environmental history, examining the role of social structures in shaping the natural environment as well as the role of environmental factors in shaping historical change. Topics include climate change and ecological crises; the dynamic relationship between empires and colonies; the rise of market economies and modern states; shifting attitudes toward technology, sustainability, and preservation; idealized images of a bucolic nature before the advent of industrialization; the emergence of environmental activism. Prereq: Soph. stndg.

HIST 4100. Public History. 3 cr. hrs.
An examination of the means by which the skills and methods of history are applied by professionals outside the classroom. Topics include public history as a sub-discipline of history, historic preservation, and the emergence of history museums and historical societies. Prereq: Soph. stndg.

HIST 4101. Applied History. 3 cr. hrs.
An examination of technologies for researching, presenting and preserving historical materials. Students will learn to apply historic methods through digital media technologies. Topics will include systems and tools for: researching and collecting documents and materials; digitizing, editing and manipulating materials; presenting content to local and distant audiences; and preserving materials in appropriate formats. Digital imaging, multimedia and Web page creation, streaming technologies, presentations systems and CD/DVD production will be investigated. The unique capabilities of collaboration and distribution over high-speed networks (Internet2) will also be explored. Requirements include a final project on a historical topic that incorporates some or all of the technologies introduced in the course. This project will demonstrate mastery of content as well as technology. Prereq: Jr. stndg.
